Council of Independent Colleges – Tuition Exchange Program (CIC-TEP)

All participation forms for the CIC Tuition Exchange Program must be submitted prior to February 28, 2020

The CIC Tuition Exchange Program (CIC-TEP) is a network of CIC colleges and universities willing to accept, tuition-free, students from families of full-time employees of other CIC-TEP institutions. Each participating institution in the network agrees to import a limited number of students on the same admission basis as they accept all other students.

The program encourages students from employee families of private colleges and universities to attend similar institutions. It also assists these same families in meeting the partial cost of college attendance. (Please note: the costs for room, board and other expenses are excluded.)

Dependent children of full-time faculty and staff who have been employed by the University in a full-time capacity for at least one consecutive year are eligible to apply. Please note that dependent children must be legally dependent upon the employee for support as defined by the Internal Revenue Service statutes and regulations; must be under the age of 22, at the beginning of each academic year in order to maintain eligibility; and must be full-time, undergraduate, students.

For more information on this program and a listing of nearly 400 participating institutions, log onto www.cic.edu. (Once you get to cic.edu go under “Programs and Services” and you will see the “Tuition Exchange Program (TEP)” listed. From there, click on 'Participating Institutions' to see a complete list of schools.)

Attached is the CIC-TEP participation form. Please submit a participation form for each institution that your dependent is applying to under the CIC-TEP. Completed forms should be sent to Human Resources. Please note that participating institutions will only accept a limited number of students per year, so early registration is advisable. If your dependent will be applying to a school for admission or has already applied, the participation form can be submitted. You do not need to wait until your dependent is accepted to the institution to submit the participation form.

CIC scholarships are granted by the host institution. Bay Path University cannot guarantee that any applicant, no matter how well qualified, will receive a CIC scholarship from the host institution.
